   a) shareholding of the developer; and
   b) ultimate holding company of the developer.

9. The housing developer shall inform the Controller, in writing within 14 days from the date when the housing developer or, where the housing developer is a company, the housing developer or any of its shareholders or related corporations of the shareholders, is adjudged by any court of law (whether in Singapore or elsewhere) that it/they are responsible for defects in any other housing project.

10. The housing developer shall inform the Controller of any benefit which includes, rebate, reimbursement, allowance, discount, payment, voucher or any other type of benefit provided to a purchaser of any unit(s) in the building project, in the format and within the timeframe specified in the Guide on Key Requirements for Licensed Housing Developers sent to the housing developer upon approval of the housing developer licence, as required under section 11 of the Housing Developers (Control and Licensing) Act 1965.

11. The housing developer shall not after the redemption of any mortgage pursuant to Rule 11 of the Housing Developers (Project Account) Rules further encumber the land or the housing unit by way of a mortgage or by any other means and no caveat shall be lodged in respect of the land or the housing unit.

12. The housing developer shall not at any time mortgage, charge or encumber in any way the land and/or the building project thereon unless the loan or moneys to be secured by such mortgage, charge or encumbrance is or are for the purposes as specified below and no other purpose(s):

    - financing the carrying out and completion of the building project with Certificate of Statutory Completion issued under the Building Control Act 1989 and the sale and purchase under all the sale and purchase agreements in respect of the building project.

13. The housing developer shall within 6 months after the close of every financial year furnish to the Controller a certification by an auditor certifying that the land and/or the building project thereon is or are not mortgaged, charged or encumbered in any way by the housing developer at any time in that financial year as security for any loan or moneys that is or are for purposes other than as specified in Condition 12.

14. Not to, on or after 03 Feb 2026, ("the effective date of the condition"), enter into any agreement or arrangement not being an option to purchase prescribed under the Housing Developers Rules, and whether with or without the receipt of consideration, that gives or has the effect of giving any person (including an intending purchaser) a right or entitlement to be given an option to purchase any unit(s) in the housing project.

15. Not to, without the prior written consent of the Controller of Housing, give an option to purchase for the sale of a unit in the housing project to an intending purchaser ("the Intended Option Holder"), whether with or without other intending purchaser(s), within 12 months after the expiry of an earlier option to purchase for the same unit given to the Intended Option Holder, whether with or without other intending purchaser(s) and whether for the same or different purchase price.

16. Where Condition (15) applies, to notify any intending purchaser of Condition (15) and obtain the written acknowledgment of the intending purchaser that notice of Condition (15) was given before giving the intending purchaser an option to purchase for the sale of any unit in the housing project.

17. In respect of the housing development, to submit an application to the Building and Construction Authority for assessment of the construction quality of the building works under the Construction Quality Assessment System (CONQUAS) and complete the assessment.
